

Ideal Job Questionnaire

What does an ideal museum job look like to you? Fill out below!
Afterwards consider the following: Any difficult to answer? Any responses surprise you?

What is your ideal job? *Be specific or broad, such as educator or Director of Education.

What does it pay?

Where is it located? *If you don't have a place, it can simply be the city or suburbs.

What would a work week look like? *Such as, working some nights, typical 9-5, hybrid or remote?

What does your work/life balance look like?

What does your workspace, office or desk look like?

How do you envision working with other people in your ideal job?

Page 2 - Ideal Job

How would you like to collaborate and communicate with your coworkers?

What should an organization do to show that they care?

What are the organization's values?

How would you want this job to make you feel?

What are some personal goals you have for yourself in the next year? 3 years? 5 years?

Finally, if you could work anywhere, what is it and what would your title be? Don't be afraid to dream big! If you don't have a specific place, you can simply describe the feel and type of job.

Make the Perfect (Skill) Match

Use this worksheet to do research into a job application and as a starting point to construct the basis for your cover letter, resume and interview questions.

Qualifications

What are the main requirements listed? Place the key ones here:

Keywords & Skills

Place in order of importance - a clue to determine is often what they list first in the application

Application's Top Categories

Take the keywords, skills and any qualifications and sort them into ideally 3 categories

Discovering Your Superpowers

What are your top 3 - 5 skills? List them below.

Page 2 - Skill Match

What top skills and qualifications have you found per category in the position you're interested in? Using the table below, add them to the column on the left, then pair them with your relevant skills on the right. Next, you're going to want to write a sentence or two of your matched skill in action (what did you do AND what was the result). You can then take these mapped out skills and sprinkle them into your resume, cover letter and use during interviews!

Job Skills/Requirements	My Matched Skills/Experience

Opportunities for Growth

Note any areas above that you did not have a corresponding skill. These can be areas for growth! You may also want to be prepared if you're asked about it during the interview.

Don't worry, nobody is ever going to match an application perfectly!

Build-A-Statement

Use this worksheet to construct a personal statement that can be used on cover letters, a resume summary, networking and interviews. This 3-4 sentence statement should tell a concise but punchy overview of whatever you'd like to get across. Brainstorm below and then put it altogether at the end!

Sentence #1: Who Are You

Where are you at in your career? What drives you? Why were you hired for your current role? How would you describe yourself or what you do?

Sentence #2: What Are You Looking For and WHY

New career? To relocate? Advice? Experience? Changing careers? A type of workplace culture?

Sentence #3: What You Bring

What experience do you bring or what pain can you solve for a future employer? What is special about your personality, work ethic, skills, etc.? How can you help?

Your Statement

Put your 3-4 sentences together for your personal statement!

Optional: Personal information here (name and contact information)

Application submission date

Optional: Organization address

Dear Hiring Manager or To Whom It May Concern: If noted on the application, address to a specific person. If not, can use "Hiring Manager" or "To Whom It May Concern."

Intro paragraph: Call out the organization, job title and how you discovered the job (if it is worth noting, such as a direct contact or connection with the organization). Add personal flare: express interest in the position, the organization, interest in the organization's mission or a personal story about you (the more specific as to the why, the better). Then end with a sentence that directly states why you are the best candidate for the position. An example: "I am excited to apply for the position of Marketing Assistant at the Ferret Museum of Art, a museum that I have fond memories of visiting as a child. As someone who has committed the last 5 years to strengthening and developing my skills in marketing and social media as well as specific knowledge of your subject matter, I believe I am an ideal candidate for this role." Keep this paragraph short, 3 sentences MAX.

2nd - 4th paragraphs: Through the research work you will have done on the job description using the Skill Matching worksheet, you should have identified the top 2-3 categories of skills they are seeking. You will want to center these next paragraphs around each of these categories and select a story about your skill/experience that best matches the job description. It is imperative that you directly reference specifics in the job description when referring it back to your experience, making those connections for the hiring manager. These too you want to keep under 6 sentences.

"The museum educator position at the Museum of Ancient Memes requires someone confident in leading guided tours daily to people of all ages and my past experience would allow me to thrive in this role. While working as a tour guide at the LOLCAT Museum, I was tasked with..."

Closing paragraph: You want to end with confidence that you are the right candidate for this role. Can include a short story that sums up your experience or reinforces a point. "I am the ideal candidate for this position because it requires a creative problem-solver, collaborator and educator to expand and grow the museum's public programs. As a prior boss remarked, my creative skills really shined when I developed an education program on the spot for a school, with minimal resources, after a last-minute change to an event. I am very excited by this position and look forward to hearing the next steps in the application process."

Persona Persons (she/her) (1)

Anyplace, CA 90210 • perpersons@gmail.com • 999-999-9999
linkedin.com/persona.persons

(2) I am a museum educator with 5 years professional experience in medium-sized museums. After realizing my true passion lies in connecting material culture and education programs together, I am looking to gain further experience in developing my program development talents. My work is centered around making connections, collaboration and creativity, both internally with staff members but also externally with programs.

Professional Experience (3)

Museum of Ancient Memes

Los Angeles, CA

Education Manager

December 2019- present

I was hired for my experience in creating innovative and community-based programs, especially to grow the museum's "Memes and Me" children's program.

- Lead guided tours for the general public. (not specific enough)
- Lead daily guided tours for elementary and middle school groups as well as the general public and utilize hands-on objects to make learning accessible and fun. (more specific)
- Created the museum's first summer camps targeting youth ages 6-8 and increased attendance in 2022 by 60% by successfully adding a new outdoor history camp. (measurables make this more compelling)
- Collaborates with several departments on a weekly basis through targeted meetings that I lead which focus on programming for exhibitions, donor events and special events. These meetings are essential to ensuring direct communication between departments and that we are producing the best programming possible. (an example of how you can do two sentences for a bullet point)
- Currently manages a volunteer team of 25 individuals and is developing a youth volunteer program that works with local high school history students.

LOLCAT History Center

San Francisco, CA

Education Program Assistant

June 2018– November 2019

After realizing my true passion lies in connecting material culture and education programs together, I gained further experience in developing my teaching talents through assisting in a variety of public programs.

- Designed programs for and managed the daily operations of Cat Scratch, the organization's family fun center and advocated for introducing more hands-on activities and handling objects to the space.
- Assisted with a monthly hands-on adult evening program series that targeted adults ages 21- 40 where I helped raise attendance by 15% and forged partnerships with 5 new community groups.

- Performed quarterly evaluations and documentation of programs for the organization’s Education Committee and board reports in order to make more informed and strategic decisions.

Cartoon Network

Orlando, FL

Collections Intern

May 2017 - August 2017

This role allowed me to strengthen my knowledge of cataloging and building confidence in rehousing objects. I was also given the opportunity to create object-based education programs with the Director of Education.

- I utilized PastPerfect software to catalog and update over 500 entries out of a collection of 2,500 objects.
- Developed educational content for “What is this thing?”, the business’s long-running YouTube web series where they highlight objects in their collection by sharing information and asking thought-provoking questions.
- My internship culminated in assisting with exhibition deinstallation of “Spongbob’s Square Pants, Bikini Bottoms and Beyond: An Exhibition in 100 Objects”, working closely with the Curators and Collection Manager.

Arby’s

San Francisco, CA

Guest Experience Coordinator

October 2016 - January 2018

- Provided exceptional customer service by creating a welcoming environment, asking meaningful questions and ensuring food was made on time by liasoning with the kitchen staff.
- Implemented guest surveys monthly to have a better understanding of guests’ needs and areas of improvement.

Education (4)

Resume Key

1. Header / personal information
  - a. Should include your name, location (can be simply city and state), contact information and LinkedIn profile.
  - b. LinkedIn profile: this is a great place to include all the additional information you weren't able to on your resume. Feel free to mention that too, whether during the application process or explicitly on your resume
2. Personal summary/statement
  - a. This is your chance (in 3-4 sentences) to tell about who you are, what you are looking for (and why) and what you bring to the table. A way to frame this is: 1st sentence is who you are, what you were hired to do or what drives you; 2nd sentence can outline what you are looking for and why (job, workplace culture, experience, skill-building, relocation, new career path); 3rd sentence is what you can bring to a future employer (skills, work ethic, personality traits, etc.).
3. Professional experience
  - a. Put your most compelling experience first
  - b. Be specific and add measurables when applicable
  - c. Ask yourself, "So what?" or "To what end?" when adding in experience
4. Education
  - a. If you are a recent (or current) student and this is your strongest experience, add to this section.
  - b. You can include things like relevant coursework, your thesis and research papers and use a sentence to describe what the project was, for example, or what you learned from it.
5. Skills
  - a. Consider including only technical / hard skills. Soft skills such as phrases like detail-oriented, team player, creative doesn't mean anything on their own without an explanation or example
  - b. Hard skills can be: specific software (collections databases, design applications, project management tools), social media platforms, websites, POS system, languages
6. Extra section 1: Volunteer / Leadership / Personal Interests
  - a. If you have the experience, this section can go a long way to add to your resume and give it personal flavor. Feel free to describe what you do in these roles!
7. Extra section 2: Awards / Certifications
  - a. Consider adding a short description of the award, why you won it or why it is important.
8. Extra section: Publications / Research / Exhibitions / Presentations
  - a. If you are able to link to any of these materials you worked on, you can do so here.

Create a Strong Resume

A resume is a brief, informative summary of your abilities, education, and experience. It should highlight your strongest assets and skills relevant to the job for which you are applying, and differentiate you from other candidates seeking similar positions. Although it alone will not get you a job or internship, a good resume is an important element toward obtaining an interview.

Tailor your resume to the type of position you are seeking. This does not mean that all of your experience must relate directly, but your resume should reflect the kind of skills the employer would value.

RESUME TIPS

RESUME LANGUAGE SHOULD BE:

- Specific rather than general
- Active rather than passive
- Written to express not impress
- Articulate rather than "flowery"
- Fact-based (quantify and qualify)
- Written for people who scan quickly

DON'T:

- Use personal pronouns (such as I)
- Abbreviate
- Use a narrative style
- Number or letter categories
- Use slang or colloquialisms
- Include a picture
- Include age or sex
- List references
- Start each line with a date

TOP 5 RESUME MISTAKES:

1. Spelling and grammar errors
2. Missing email and phone information
3. Using passive language instead of "action" words
4. Not well organized, concise, or easy to skim
5. Not tailored to the position or industry

DO:

- Be consistent in format and content
- Make it easy to read and follow, balancing white space
- Use consistent spacing, bold, and capitalization for emphasis
- List headings (such as Experience) in order of importance
- Within headings, list information in reverse chronological order (most recent first)
- Avoid information gaps such as a missing summer
- Be sure that your formatting translated properly if converted to a .pdf

PLAN TO WORK INTERNATIONALLY?

Write an Effective Cover Letter

Your cover letter is a writing sample and a part of the screening process. By putting your best foot forward, you can increase your chances of being interviewed. A good way to create a response-producing cover letter is to highlight your skills or experiences that are most applicable to the job or industry and to tailor the letter to the specific organization you are applying to.

Some general rules about letters:

- Address your letters to a specific person if you can.
- Tailor your letters to specific situations or organizations by doing research before writing your letters.
- Keep letters concise and factual, no more than a single page. Avoid flowery language.
- Give examples that support your skills and qualifications.
- Put yourself in the reader's shoes. What can you write that will convince the reader that you are ready and able to do the job?
- Don't overuse the pronoun "I".
- Remember that this is a marketing tool. Use lots of action words.
- Have an OCS adviser provide feedback, when possible.
- If converting to a .pdf, check that your formatting translated correctly.
- Reference skills or experiences from the job description and draw connections to your credentials.
- Make sure your resume and cover letter are prepared with the same font type and size.

	Date of Letter
	Contact Name
	Contact Title
	Company Name
Use complete title and address.	Street Address
	City, State, Zip Code
	Dear _____:
Address to a particular person if possible and remember to use a colon.	Opening paragraph: Clearly state why you are writing, name the position or type of work you're exploring and, where applicable, how you heard about the person or organization. Mention the key skills or expertise that qualify you for this role.
Make the addressee want to read your resume. Be brief, but specific.	Middle paragraph(s): Provide supporting examples to demonstrate that you have the key skills and expertise needed in the role, which you have mentioned in the first paragraph; but do not reiterate your entire resume. Explain why you are interested in this employer and your reasons for desiring this type of work. Be sure to do this in a confident manner and remember that the reader will view your letter as an example of your writing skills.
Ask for a meeting and remember to follow up.	Closing paragraph: Reiterate your interest in the position, and your enthusiasm for using your skills to contribute to the work of the organization. Thank the reader for their consideration of your application, and end by providing your email and phone number for any questions or to arrange an interview.
	Sincerely,
	Your name typed

Liza Wideman
Recruiting Coordinator
Great Strategy Consulting Firm
200 Shell Fish Blvd, Suite 199
San Francisco, CA 94080

Dear Liza Wideman:

I am writing to express my interest in securing an Associate position at Great Strategy Consulting Firm. I am a Master of Liberal Arts degree candidate at Harvard Extension School, specializing in Information Technology. I come from a solid technical background with a strong interest in business and a passion towards strategy. My area of focus and interest varies from quantitative analysis to project management. I have maintained a 3.95 GPA through a well-balanced program of study, which is not only very analytical and technical by nature but also helps to build leadership and team building qualities. I am extremely impressed with Great Strategy's approach to strategy consulting, especially within the Business Development and Innovation practice areas. I believe my academic background, business knowledge and industry experiences have provided me with the credentials needed to thrive as an Associate.

Prior to Harvard, I worked as a technology professional, primarily resolving strategic issues related to technology process improvement. I gained solid research, analytical and problem solving skills while working in Fortune 500 companies. My background in generating innovative ideas and strategies to improve processes has provided me with a deeper understanding of multifaceted problems that companies encounter in their daily operations. Moreover, because of my work experiences, I fully understand how important it is to have great team dynamics in today's multi-disciplinary business environment.

To date, my experience as an IT professional has been extremely rewarding and productive. However, it is through strategy consulting that I can use my analytical aptitude and creative problem solving skills to their fullest. I strongly believe that consulting is a discipline that will force me to view problems not only from the client's standpoint but also from a marketplace, best practices and "think out of the box" point of views.

I would appreciate the opportunity to interview with Great Strategy Consulting Firm for the Associate position. Please find enclosed my resume for your review. I can be reached via email at jacob.mclean@post.harvard.edu or by phone at (617) 555-3456. I enthusiastically look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Jacob A. McLean

SAMPLE COVER LETTER

October 10, 2021

Susan Carey
Senior Manager
Wholesale Wine USA
23 Green St.
Boston, MA 02116

Dear Susan Carey:

I am writing to apply for your position in wine wholesale as advertised on Crimson Careers. This exciting opportunity appears to be a wonderful fit with my professional experience, personal interests, and career goals.

I am returning to Boston to complete my final year at Harvard University Extension School, where I am majoring in French and economics. Having spent the year working and traveling, I am eager to incorporate myself once again into the local wine community, to which I can bring experience in a number of sectors of the industry.

Through eight years in the restaurant field, I have acquired a deep love of and appreciation for wine and cuisine. I have been known to wax rhapsodic over specials; nothing made me happier than discussing a bottle with a table. This enthusiasm allowed me to introduce a list of reserve selections to Shay's Pub and Wine Bar. The result was an appreciable increase in sales for the restaurant and repeat attendance by customers. My position at Aspen's award-winning Montagna allowed me to expand upon my knowledge of wine, locally inspired cuisine, and the highest standards of service. Our weekly blind-tastings fueled my desire to further myself in this field, and I am in the process of acquiring certification through both the Court of Master Sommeliers and the Wine Spirit and Education Trust.

Most recently, I have returned from France where I was lucky enough to work on an organic vineyard in Beaujolais. I adored working with the young, dynamic, vigneron who ran the estate, the largest of its kind in the region. A position at your wholesale wine company would allow me to draw upon this experience and to facilitate the success of such producers. Additionally, it would enable me to replicate the most enjoyable components of my experience overall: working with my colleagues in the local restaurant industry, as well as with distinctive, iconoclastic wine-makers.

I am readily available via email or phone in order to arrange an interview, and have attached my resume below per your request. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions. I appreciate your consideration and look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Georgina Santiago
